FAQ:

Q: What are Soft Enamel Pins?

A: Soft Enamel Pins are a type of custom lapel pins that are made using a die struck metal base and filled with enamel colors. The enamel is heated at a lower temperature than hard enamel pins, leaving the colors with a slightly raised or textured surface.

Q: What is the size of the Soft Enamel Pins?

A: The size of the Soft Enamel Pins may vary depending on your custom design and requirements. At Progifts, we offer a wide range of sizes to choose from, starting from 0.75 inches to 2 inches.

Q: How are Soft Enamel Pins made?

A: Soft Enamel Pins are made using a die struck metal base, which is then filled with enamel colors. The enamel is then cured at a lower temperature than hard enamel pins, resulting in a slightly raised or textured surface. The pins are then polished and plated with the desired finish.

Q: Can I get a custom design on the Soft Enamel Pins?

A: Yes, at Progifts, we offer custom designs on Soft Enamel Pins. You can send us your design or work with our team of designers to create a unique design for your pins.

Q: Where are the Soft Enamel Pins made?

A: Soft Enamel Pins are made in China, which is the place of origin for Progifts. We have a team of skilled artists and designers who work together to create high-quality Soft Enamel Pins for our customers.
